CELEBRATING OUR MEMBERS

Our Board Member,
Lee Moultrie was recognized as the Veterans Hero of the Game.

About the distinction:

The Hero of The Game program is a season-long commitment made by the RiverDogs and The Boeing Company to pay tribute to local military personnel and their families. During each home game, a veteran and their family is honored for their commitment and sacrifice.

As the Hero of the Game, honorees and their guest are treated to the Riley Park Club experience, recognized on the video board and through public address with a description of their contributions to our country.

HERO OF THE GAME DATE: SUNDAY, AUGUST 25

HERO FULL NAME: STAFF SERGEANT LEE H. MOULTRIE

BRANCH: U.S. AIR FORCE - RETIRED 1994

NUMBER OF YEARS SERVED: 18 YEARS

Several of our members that have been featured in the monthly Joint Base Charleston: In the Know newsletter as Civic Leaders of the Month.

Judi Hughes
Commanders Liaison Chair,
PMSG Board Member

CIVIC LEADER OF THE MONTH

Judi Hughes is an outstanding supporter of the military and the greater Charleston community. Judi retired from the Air Force after 27 plus years of active duty, serving as commander to the 628th Medical Group of the 628th Air Base Wing at Joint Base Charleston. After retiring she served as a board member for the Charleston Research Institute acting as a Commander Liaison for the Palmetto Military Support Group through her position. She was instrumental in the inaugural Lowcountry Salutes event held in April 2019 that recognized high school graduates who chose the military as a career. Her dedication to the military and the Lowcountry has earned Team Charleston's deepest appreciation and recognition as the Civic Leader of the Month.

Janis Newton
Director, MUSC Wellness
Center

CIVIC LEADER OF THE MONTH

Janis Newton is an outstanding supporter of the military and the greater Charleston community. She is currently the director of the Medical University of SC Wellness Center and serves passionately in the Palmetto Military Support Group as a board member. Janis wears many hats as a medical exercise specialist and international wellness presenter- she recently presented to fitness professionals in Moscow, Russia. Her team at the Wellness Center was voted "Best Health Club in Charleston" for the past six years and is dedicated to promoting health and wellness for the Charleston community. Her dedication to the military and the Lowcountry has earned Team Charleston's deepest appreciation and recognition as the Civic Leader of the Month.

Chris Naughton
14th Airlift Squadron
Honorary Commander

CIVIC LEADER OF THE MONTH

Chris Naughton is a great supporter of the military and the greater Charleston community. Chris serves as an Honorary Commander for the 14th Airlift Squadron at Joint Base Charleston and a board member of the Palmetto Military Support Group. Chris is also a member of Charleston Leaders, Rotary North Charleston Breakfast Club, Holy City Toastmasters, and is actively engaged with the Charleston Metro Chamber of Commerce. In June, he organized a tour for some of Charleston's key community leaders of the Carolina Youth Development Center in order to gain support and resources for underprivileged youth. His dedication to the military and the Lowcountry has earned Team Charleston's deepest appreciation and recognition as the Civic Leader of the Month.
